322 MICHIGAN HAS HUT TO BE DEDICATED THIS WEEK; OFFICERS STUDYING SPANISH IN CAMP.

A few horses have already been issued to the 322 and they are being used by the officers. Col. Covell and Lieut. Col. Westledge are seen trying out their horses every day on the roads adjacent to camp.

In a Model Camp. A model camp has been constructed on the site of the 322 Michigan camp. The officers have been studying the attractive features of all. The little houses are built permanently. They are surrounded with wire mesh preventing mosquitoes from gaining an entrance. The doors are screened and each of the officers' tents has a fly. The streets are paved with concrete and are clean and many decorations are in front of the tents. Fronting the commanding officer's tent is a huge cottonwood tree that shades it. Lumber is on the ground for building roomy mess halls for the men.

Extra equipment has been issued to the men and each man now has two shirts where he had one before.

Learning Spanish. Col. Covell and his brother officers are studying Spanish lessons three times a week. A Spanish teacher is giving the instructions and his students are improving rapidly.

James T. Kilfeather, a "Kid" Gleason, of the 31st, are the two pupils of that command. The two young soldiers will mix it at Fort Bliss in the preliminary round in the main event Saturday. Kilfeather has written back to his friend, the manager of the Windsor Athletic club of Canada, requesting him to make arrangements for him when the boxer returns. Kilfeather says he'll be in excellent condition to fight when he returns to Michigan.

Arrangements. The Y. M. C. A. of the 31st Michigan has organized 12 armory ball teams and from now on there will be two games played daily at the camp. The men have taken an active interest in armory ball.

Starting last night a Bible class of 25 members began a series of studies at the Y. M. C. A. tent.

The 322 commanders have recommended that a recruiting party go back to Michigan and enlist more men for the regiment. The 322 lacks 200 men and horses to being up to war strength. The horses will be recruited this week. The recruiting detail has been suggested by Capt. Campbell, regimental adjutant, names men in both the 31st and 32d Michigan infantry. The Grand Rapids men of the 32d are now in the Y. M. C. A. tent. The names of the 31st, in addition to these there will be picked out of both regiments, five sergeants, five corporals and five privates. It is expected the recommendation will be received favorably by headquarters and that the party will leave soon for home.

Plumbing Inspector. Capt. John Benner, B company, 32d Michigan infantry, was recently appointed by Gen. George Bell, jr., commander of the 31st Infantry, as plumbing inspector of this district. Capt. Benner has charge of the laying of water pipes in the camps.

Brother in Foreign Legion. A member of the 32d Infantry has a brother who is in the American Legion of the British army at Toronto, Canada, who will leave Sept. 1 for the war zone across the sea. The brother of James E. Green, machine gun company of Grand Rapids, has communicated to him saying that he is laid up in the army hospital at Toronto with a broken leg and is pulling teeth. The brother states he is in the 21st battalion of the American Legion.

The horses and mules for the 32d were due in camp Tuesday. There are 48 riding horses, 32 draft horses and six riding mules coming to this regiment.

BACKACHE. In spite of the best care one takes of oneself, any part of the human machine is liable to become out of order. The most important organs are the stomach, heart and kidneys.

The kidneys are the scavengers and they work day and night in separating the poisons from the blood. It is only reasonable to believe that they are liable to disengagement. Their signals of distress, however, are easily recognized and include such symptoms as backache, depression, drowsiness, irritability, headache, dizziness, rheumatic twinges, dropsy, gout.

The very best way to restore the kidneys to their normal state of health" says Dr. Pierre of Buffalo, N. Y., is to drink plenty of pure water and obtain from your favorite pharmacy a small amount of anuric, which is dissolved in every drink of water. Anuric is inexpensive and should be taken before meals.—Adv.

ed for the field force of a number of municipal departments has led to the letting down of the civil service bars to the extent of making it possible for department heads to employ workers from outside of Philadelphia. This decision was reached when city officials found it impossible to fill the many vacancies from local workmen.

Director Datsman, of the department of public works, suffers the worst from a shortage of labor and now finds it practically impossible to keep up city repair work to their proper quota at the $2 a day allowance each man. Similar conditions exist in the departments of transit and wharves, docks and ferries.

No Change in Bread. The decision reached by bakers in Columbus, O., to cut the weight of the 5 cent loaf of bread is not expected to be followed in this city, according to the bakers and officials of local bakeries.

Frederick Hainen, head of the H. J. Meas Baking company, at Hutchinson, Kan., says that he does not know of any movement at the present time in this city to change the size of the loaf of bread or the price. If the cost of ingredients increases it will be necessary to take
